

Who I am

I am Eleonora Galvagno a Designer with the aim of combining design with the art of creativity, an entrepreneur and Creative Influencer. Bachelor's degree in Design with Master's degree in Interior Design: I decided to fuse my imagination with application in creative projects such as Digital scrapbooking papers, sewing, scrapbooking Albums and many others. Since 2011, I'm a reference point on Youtube with hundreds of tutorials, reviews and vlogs. Today Sweetbiodesign is expanding, with national and international collaborations (Cricut America and Necchi Italy), it's synonymous of inspiration, clarity, ease of implementation and creative ideas within everyone's reach. Thanks to this, our community grows more and more.

Sweetbiodesign

I am currently a digital entrepreneur with my websites: the shop www.sweetbiodesign.com and the video courses one www.corsicreativi.com and I'm a Creative Influencer. I design products such as scrapbooking papers or creative hobby tools. I appeared in various magazines and television programs (Magazine B by Barbara D'Urso, SweetBio Lab Show on Sky tv, Uni Colors Academy for Osama Spa, "Fatto in casa da Benedetta" with Benedetta Rossi) and I actually collaborated with various brands such as Steadtler, Tesa, etc. I am currently Brand Ambassador of Necchi Italy and Cricut America's products exclusively for Italy.

My Vision

As a designer, my vision of the future is certainly oriented towards the design of creative spaces branded Sweetbiodesign, with a completely unique concept combining creativity and style and the practical and facility of use of the spaces. I aim to create specific products, designed and intended for creative hobbies and related to the designing of furnitures the creative stations. The training sector has already begun on my new platform corsicreativi.com and in the future I certainly see a complete online space with a very wide offer. I do not exclude a television participation with a format inspired by my work.

What I offer

Over the years I have created a profession and I am able to create specific videos using all kinds of products for handmade. The synergy of my social networks allows a widespread diffusion of projects or specific posts or videos. The name Sweetbiodesign is associated with quality and competence and interchange with the public for the simplicity of application of each proposed project. All this allows a 360 ° promotion. I also offer personalized advice both practical and for the design of specific products.
